CAREER SUMMARY

I'm a front-end developer who crafts visually stunning and accessible web designs using the power of CSS. My previous experience in the fast-paced real estate world has given me exceptional communication and problem-solving skills, which seamlessly translate to coding.

RECENT PROJECTS

Reel Movie Tracker

2023

A user-friendly movie tracking application that simplifies the process of keeping track of watched movies and their ratings. Collaboratively built with Kyle Lau, the application leverages the Firebase API and is constructed using vanilla JavaScript to provide a seamless and intuitive user experience.
